THIS SECTION of Your Home Towners team is grateful to Rev. W. P. Carter for giving him a book, "The Story of R. G. Le Tourneau," entitled "God Runs My Business." What a joy it is to read of a great man like Le Tourneau that puts God first, not only in his business but his everyday life. Quoting from the book. "A steam engine converts only six per cent of the heat unit in the fuel it uses into actual power. A gasoline engine does better than this. It turns about sixteen per cent of the potential power of the fuel into power. But the Diesel engine can get approximately thirty-three per cent efficiency from its fuel, and that is one reason why the Diesel motor is coming to the front so fast. "How many of us are steam-engine Christians? One of the great hindrances to mechanical efficiency is friction, and even though we overcome a lot of its effects by the use of oil and other lubricants, it still exists. Friction between groups and individual Christians steals the power from them. Let us ask God to reduce this loss with the "oil" of His blessed Holy Spirit filling our lives."

Thanks a million Rev. Carter. I will pass this book along to others. It was an inspiration to me and I know it will be for others that read it.

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

Soviet Russia disclosed that it intends to suspend for 20 to 40 years the redemption of government bonds totalling $65 billion.

The suspension means that tens of millions of Russians will lose their entire savings. Every wage earner in the Soviet Union is forced to subscribe up to one month's pay a year to the annual loans.

The disclosure of the proposed moratorium made by Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist Party secretary. He said frankly that the government could not afford to repay the money.

A test between pro-Russian and pro-Western factions in Arab Jordan approached a showdown when young King Hussein ousted pro-Soviet Premier Suleiman Nabulsi.

Depending On Army.

Hussein, who has taken a strong anti-Communist position, is depending on the support of his army to make the ouster stick.

Nabulsi has the support of the Jordanian mob element, easily to riot by his frequent anti-Western tirades.

For the present, the situation was confused. One thing alone was certain—Jordan was nearing a crisi which might involve its existence.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, after announcing a revolutionary change in Britain's military system, presented to the House of Commons a budget which provided for individual and business tax reductions amounting to $364 million a year.

Macmillan's program is based on the conviction that Britain must adapt its defense to nuclear warfare and must offer its people—perhaps the highest taxed in any free country — some relief from pressure.

Sukarno Makes Move.

In Indonesia, torn by revolt, President Sukarno announced a 23-man cabinent of "experts" as his first move toward making his country what he calls a "guided democracy." His next step is to be the formation of a "national council" which will control the cabinet. There were indications that, in the end, Indonesia would become a dictatorship under Sukarno.

Britain, in its latest step to strengthen its commonwealth by giving its colonies home rule, granted the crown colony of Singapore a constitution. Singapore will be called "the state of Singa- government. Britain will keep control of its foreign affairs and defense against external aggression.

School Record Broken

Mrs. Martha E. Walker, 213 Short Street, was winner of the Frigidaire electric range given away as the grand prize at the close of the two-day all-electric cooking school held at the American Legion home Thursday and Friday afternoon breaking all previous attendance records. The school was conducted by local electric appliance dealers in connection with the Texas Power & Light Company and the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette. About 800 women attended the two-day event.

Other winners of gifts on Friday afternoon were:

Universal electric skillet and "Beef Stroganoff," from TP&L Co.—Mrs. Keister Snodgrass, 507 N. Bradley Street.

Philco radio from Howell's — Mrs. Vernon Morris, R.F.D. McKinney.

Automatic GE percolator from C. P. Horn Appliance—Mrs. Pete Lucas, 206 North Bradley.

Proctor electric toaster from Good Housekeeping Shop—Mrs. J. E. Gibson, 210 North Benge Street.

Food winners—Miss Josephine Benton, Zara Lane, Maggie Eldridge, Mrs. H. K. Kerr and Mrs. W. R. Brown.

Ten subscriptions to the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette were given away, names of winners unavailable at this time. Holders of the cards will present them at this office.

Mrs. Vena Phillips, home service adviser for the TP&L Co., conducted the food demonstrations, assisted by Boyd Williams, local manager; George Coulter, commercial advisor; Ted Uptmore of Denison, farm service advisor; H. R. Miller of Sherman, sales supervisor.

Dealers participating in the show were: Good Housekeeping Shop, Howell's Appliance & Furniture; Johnson Furniture Company; P&M Furniture Company; Sears-Roebuck & Co., Dale & Meacham; C. P. Horn Appliance; Western Auto, White's, and Monroe's Appliance.

Millions Damage Predicted As Mid-April Freeze Hits Texas

★ ★ ★

(By United Press)

The worst mid-April freeze in history coated the green North Texas countryside with ice Saturday possibly causing millions of dollars worth of damage.

It will not be possible to assess the damage for several days. But if the ice killed everything it encased, it may have wiped out the fruit crop, ruined tender field crops and denuded fully leafed trees.

A freezing drizzle covered part of the North Texas area and it laid a coating of dangerous ice over streets and bridges that resulted in at least one death and two injuries.

The death was in Dallas, where and unidentified Negro's car skidded on the icy Hampton Road Viaduct and smashed into two other cars. The Negro was killed and a white man and woman in one of the other cars were injured.

◆ ◆ ◆

Bitter Cold in Panhandle.

It was still biterly cold in the Panhandle — Amarillo recorded a temperature of 23 degrees, lowest in the state — but reports indicated that general conditions were better in the Panhandle than Friday.

Panhandle highways, which were iced over Friday, were passable Saturday without chains and the highway patrol said only bridges were dangerous. There was much vegetation in the Panhandle to freeze.

Communications, which were crippled Friday by ice in the Panhandle, were back in operation again. It was cloudy in Dalhart, but expected to warm up. Amarillo reported a heavy frost Friday night.

In North Texas, the story was worse. Dallas had 31 and Fort Worth 30 — the lowest in history— and trees and shrubs were bent under the weight of ice that a freezing drizzle put upon them. Even the green grass on lawns was crumpled by the ice.

◆ ◆ ◆

Rain Helps.

Lewis Croom of the Dallas weather bureau said there was some rain before the freezing drizzle started and that this might have helped keep vegetation from freezing. He said that if vegetation is wet down before a freeze, it radiates its own heat within the ice.

Freezing temperatures in Dallas at 12:30 a. m. At 1:30 a. m., the freezing drizzle started and the temperature did not get above freezing until 6:10 a. m.

Croom said the freeze extended to a point just above Hillsboro, which is 50 miles south of Dallas.

At last report, it was drizzling in Waco. The temperature there got down to 33, a degree above freezing, but there were fears that this was low enough to bite the tomato crop.

◆ ◆ ◆

East Texas Above Freezing.

The lowest reported in Tyler, in the East Texas sector, was 38, not cold enough to damage crops. It was drizzyling in Tyler.

It was cold and cloudy at Wichita Falls, where it got down to 29. Fruit trees in that area, which were leafed out, undoubtedly will be hurt, though small grains were believed to be safe.

Forecasters said the outlook was for cloudy and cold weather over the state through Sunday, with drizzle likely in the Panhandle and light rain or drizzle along the coast.

Temperatures, however, probably will not be quite as low as they were Friday night. In the Dallas — Fort Worth area, they were expected to be around freezing.

65-Mile-Long Log Jam Ties Up 35 Freighters

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (UP). — A 65-mile-long ice jam tied up 35 Great Lakes freighters in the St. Mary's River Saturday and forced a halt to shipping on Lake Superior.

The ice jam, described by veteran Great Lakes shipping captains as the worst in their memories, prompted Coast Guard Capt. Ivor Kerr Friday to stop all shipping on Lake Superior.

Six freighters were still trapped today in the huge icefield in Whitefish Bay 40 miles above the Soo Locks. Eleven loaded vessels were in the ice off Whitefish Point waiting for the sky to clear before moving away from the jam and 18 ships were in the Lower St. Mary's River waiting for conditions to improve.

The ice field was described as 65 miles long, 30 to 60 miles wide, and three feet thick in places with windrows up to 25 feet high.

Nine ships cleared the locks Thursday bound for Lake Superior but only three reached open water late Friday. The ice piled up to 20 feet as Kerr's Icebreaker Mackinaw worked to free two freighters in the giant jam in Whitefish Bay.

Northwest winds were blamed for the ice piling and the Weather Bureau forecast no letup in conditions as storing winds continued to push more ice floes t the narrow bottleneck.

WASHINGTON (UP). — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield Saturday made good his order to end almost all Saturday postal service because of lack of money.

Not even last minute approval by the House Appropriations Committee of a 41 million dollar emergency appropriation stopped the scheduled drastic cuts in postal service.

Summerfield said he has no choice.

He said under the law his department could operate only with funds actually appropriated. Therefore, he said, the cuts would have to stay in effect until President Eisenhower signed the necessary emergency appropriation.

◆ ◆ ◆

Curtainments Begin.

Summerfield ordered the following cuts into effect as of midnight Friday night:

—Halt window service in all post offices on Saturdays. However, post office lobbies will be open and patrons may deposit letters and get mail from their locked boxes.

—Deliver no mail on Saturdays except special delivery.

—Reduce collection of mails on Saturday to the limited schedules which normally prevail on Sundays.

—Starting Monday, keep post office windows open only 8½ hours a day Mondays through Fridays. Each local postmaster will determine how window schedule to accommodate his community's needs.

—Starting Monday, limit mail deliveries in all downtown business areas to two a day Monday through Friday.

Starting April 29, embargo third class mail and end sale of postal money orders.

◆ ◆ ◆

Nationwide Effect.

The cuts affected every metropolis and hamlet across the nation.

But a post office spokesman said some 39 government agencies and departments including Congress and the White House will receive their mail as usual.

Postal officials also said the cuts will not affect the flood of last minute income tax returns which must be postmarked before midnight Monday to avoid penalties.

Morevore, the cuts were expected to be short lived. Congress next week was expected to appropriate emergency funds, ending most of all of the cuts.

Hi-Jacker Takes $250 From Local Food Store

The Baker Food Store, located on the South Expressway at Graham Street, was hi-jacked about 10:35 o'clock Friday night when $250 in cash was taken from the store. The hi-jacker, described as a white man about 19 years of age, ordered Baker, owner of the store, and two teen-age boys, who are employed there, to lie on the floor back of the counter.

He took the money, which was in a Colin County National Bank bag, containing about $75 in silver, the remainder in currency.

The man walked from the store up a side street toward Chestnut Street where he was evidently picked up by a companion waiting in a car.

Chief Euel Ford and members of the police force were summoned to the scene and are making an investigation.

Other reports from the police department stated a man and a woman, from Oklahoma, are being held for investigation.

Deputies Jim Standerfer and Robert Ramsey of the Sheriff's Department, arrested a man at Wylie Friday for assault on a minor.

Reputation Of Violence Is Bitter Bill For South To Swallow In Race Problem

★ ★ ★

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of four dispatches on segregation.

By AL KUETTNER
United Press Staff Correspondent

ATANTA (UP).—One of the bitterest pills of all for the South to swallow in its painful struggle with the race problem is the reputation of a land of violence.

There is no denying that there has been disorder — Negro homes dynamited and shot at, churches blasted to splinters, beatings, riots and threatened mob rule.

The fact is, however, that this sort of thing leaves most white southerners horrified.

Law-abiding southerners area ready to hang responsibility for much of the troubles on outsiders and particiularly on a 27-year-old New York bookseller named John Frederick Kasper.

◆ ◆ ◆

Kasper Getting Blame

Kasper is getting the blame for evploiting a family fight where tempers were already short and nerves ragged. He is being called demagogue by those who hate racial integration as deeply as he professes to abhor it. But mainly he has the label of an "outside agitator" — and right now that breed is mighty unpopular in Dixie.

"If John Kasper had never come here, we wouldn't have Negroes in our schools, "Citizens' Council leader W. H. Till said bitterly at Clinton, Tenn.

Kasper was a strange one from the day he set foot in Clinton last fall. School officials there were going quietly, although with distaste, into implementing the federal court orders to integrate the high school.

Breathed Fire

Within a few days Kasper, the unknown, and a confederate from Alabama, Asa Ace Carter, had tongue-lashed fire into the people. It took the National Guard to restore order.

Kasper and Carter certainly can't be blamed for all the violence. Before their appearance there was the Autherine Lucy uprising on the University of Alabama campus and innumerable incidents in Tennessee, Florida and Georgia.

But the South definitely seems to have had enough of the Kasper type. He hit his low recently in Florida where a committee of the state Legislature summoned him and for the first time explored his background.

Under incessant prodding, Kasper admitted that in New York's Greenwich Village he had often associated with Negroes.

...EDITORIAL...

A STRANGE SILENCE

THE NEXT presidential election is three and a half years off, but usually by this time the speculation over candidate prospects is already sharp. Yet in 1957, so far, a strange silence seems to pervade the political landscape.

Of course the Republicans take it more or less for granted that Vice Preisdent Nixon will be a candidate in 1960. And Senator Knowland's announced intent to quit the Senate in 1958 raised talk that he might get into the fray, though he declines to discuss his plans.

On the Democratic side one would expect more feverish doings. Yet eagerness to recapture the White House after eight years on the outside hasn't translated itself into much activity.

Possibly appearances are deceiving, and quiet but earnest efforts are under way on a scale bigger than realized.

When Sen. Estes Kefauver lost his big primary battles to Adlai Stevenstn in 1956, it was widely asserted that this appeared to crush the senator's presidential hopes for good. But events last fall compelled a review of that judgment.

Kefauver, always a "loner" who had not ingratiated himself with professional politicians whose help he needed, suddenly found himself popular in these circles. They regarded him as so effective a campaigner as the vice presidential nominee that he was in terrific demand all around the country.

Conceivably some of these professionals may now have reverted to their former attitudes toward Kefauver. But he may, too, have made some friends for keeps in important places. It would be hard to imagine that the ambitious Tennessean does not consider this prospect sufficient to justify a third bid for the Democratic nomination in 1960.

Another possibility is young Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who nearly beat Kefauver to the vice presidential tape at Chicago in 1956. He took defeat with such grace and good sportsmanship that his party standing since then seems greatly enhanced.

He is in tremendous demand everywhere as a speaker, but is concentrating on his home state, where he must run again in 1958. And there is as yet no visible organized movement by others to press his presidential candidacy.

The Democratic field could be wide. Sen. Stuart Symington, a 1956 dark horse, will be mentioned. And wholly new prospects may well arise from the Democrats' big stable of governors and newly elected senators.

But it is so quiet that one would almost think politicians were not thinking about politics. And that cannot be. Something must be going on somewhere.

Big Majority Of Bills In Congress Face Doom

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA). — If President Dwight D. Eisenhower were inclined to make Harry Trumanesque cracks—which he isn't—the present Democrat-controlled 85th Congress might be pictured as another "Do Nothing" session.

In its first three months' operations it has passed just 12 bills—three in January and February, six in March.

Nearly 2,000 bills have been introduced in the Senate and over 7,000 in the House. Nothing is sure to happen to 98 per cent of them.

It would be wrong to give the impression that nothing else had been done by the 85th Congress thus far.

Look at all the headlines the McClellan rackets probe has made.

Appropriation subcommittees in the House have also been busy as bees with budget hearings.

In the first three months the House completed action on four appropriation bills for next year, on which cuts of 685 million dollars were made. These are of course subject to later Senate approval and upward corrections by deficiency appropriations early next year.

BUT SINCE "economy" is the watchword of this Congress, it's well to review how the boys have done so far.

Biggest cut has been in the 5.9 billion dollar Independent Offices appropriation bill to run 19 big government departments not of Cabinet rank. It was hacked 538 million.

The 3.9 billion dollar Treasury-Post Office bill was cut 81 million. The 515 million Interior appropriation was cut 61 million. A small, 21 million general government expense bill was cut 5 million.

The budget total for these 4 bills was 10.4 billion. This was cut in the House by 6 2-3 per cent. If this same rate of economizing were applied to the whole 71.8 billion budget, indicated savings would be 4.7 billion.

In the eyes of many critics of the administration, if Congress can do just this—or maybe a little better—it will be doing enough for the year to call its record "good."

But on the legislative side, only 3 of the 12 measures passed so far have any importance. And they will cost more than has been saved, in the long run.

MOST IMPORTANT of all was the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution, authorizing economic and military cooperation with the Middle East. It may cost an estimated 400 million dollars in the next two years.

Then the Small Business Administration was given an 80-million-dollar increase in lending authority. That makes the total amount it can put out to small borrowers 230 million.

Third, the Federal National Mortgage Assn. — always called Fanny May—was given a 500-million-dollar increase in borrowing authroity. This will permit it to continue buying up mortgages till June 30. President Eisenhower had asked for a billion-dollar increase to ease the tight money situation in the housing market.

SMALL BUSINESS loans and Fanny May mortgages will of course be paid back to the Treasury, eventually. But it costs money to operate these agencies. And if their programs are expanded faster than other economies are made, there's no saving.

Republican political leaders of course say this small record of the Democrat-controlled Congress is a deliberate foot-dragging operation to make the Eisenhower administration look bad.

The Democratic reply to this is that there is no inspiration, no leadership and no drive for the administration program. Also, that many Republicans are just as unsold on it as the Democrats.

WASHINGTON — Congress already has before it proposed legislation which, if enacted, would prevent repetition of many of the shocking disclosures of the Senate union labor racket inquiry.

A drive by the Administration, the McCellan Committee, rank-and-file unionists, and the general public probably could bring about legislation speedily.

Bills with teeth in them now pending in Congress would remove the present exemption of labor unions from the anti-trust laws.

These measures are in the House Judiciary Committee. Repeated demands for hearings have been ignored.

The Administration is studying the bills, Attorney General Brownell has said. But no decision has been forthcoming. There also is reported to be division within the Cabinet over the proposal.

Passage of this legislation, sponsors say, would greatly curtail powers of monopolistic unions and their bosses.

Another pending bill, by Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.), says that the Taft-Hartley Act shall not prevent states from regulating strikes, picketing and the like.

A measure by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate racket investigating committee, and Rep. Smith (D-Va.) would prevent courts from invalidating state laws unless specifically occupies the field. Court increasingly that states are powerless to legislate effectively in the field of labor-management relations.

A bill by Sen. Curtis (R-Neb.) would prohibit use of the boycott by labor unions to compel employees to join unions.

Another by Smith (R-Kan.), would amend the Taft-Hartley Act to prohibit compulsory unionism. Measures to prevent union labor bosses from using union funds for political purposes have been urged.

Some members of Congress fear that insufficient legislation dealing with financial reports may be passed — leaving the union bosses in possession of monopolistic powers.

BIG SPENDERS WAGE OFFENSIVE—The big spenders have mounted a counteroffensive against the "economy bloc" in Congress. All the tricks of the big spenders are being brought into play.

A House official was told that a conference of lesser bureaucrats in the Interior Department was devoted to methods of applying appropriation cuts so as to evoke loudest protest.

The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee says big spenders organized a telephone campaign of federal employees, who have been telephoning members of Congress from many parts of the country protesting economy.

A succession of Administration officials—headed headed by Secretary of Labor Mitchell—are asking the Senate to restore appropriations which the House reduced.

Whether this counteroffensive will break the back of the impressive economy drive from "back home" is at present uncertain.

Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) says: "One of the principal reasons for the alarming rise in the cost of government is the constant demand from organized pressure groups.

"They demand appropriations of public funds for their pet projects, for new and expanded functions of government, for sectional advantage and for every conceivable form of spending. Som do not histitate to threaten political reprisals unless their proposals are given immediate attention.

"That same sort of pressure must now be exerted in support of economy . . . It must have the driving force of an aroused public opinion, so strong and so powerful that it will be irresistible.

"In the United States the people still control the government. Therefore the battle to cut the cost of government must begin with you."

Weather Bureau Promises Rain For All Crops

WASHINGTON (UP). — The weather bureau gave farmers in the drought-stricken Southwest hope today that they will have sufficient rain this year for their crops.

The bureau said above-normal rains and snows which hit the central and southern plains during March resulted from major changes in air currents over North America.

These changes, it said, may eliminate the severe drought which ruined many farmers in the area during the past few years.

The bureau said the "new weather" pattern provided more than twice the normal precipitation for March in southeastern Nebraska, western two thirds of Kansas, the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles, and in most of eastern Texas.

"Although the drought is not yet relieved in most of these areas," the bureau said, "the present weather trend must be considered as more favorable for increased precipitation in the central and southern plains than it has been in previous springs."

Mr. and Mrs. Rommie Martin and children were here from Graham, Sunday.

Jim Alfred Willis and Miss Frieda Holman were married recently in Madill, Okla. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holman of Winningkoff while Mr. Willis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Willis.

The Baptist Sunday School Association of the county will meet Sunday at the First Baptist Church here. Ray Summers of Allen will give the devotional and Dr. J. H. Cozad, local pastor, will bring the sermon.

Q's And A's

Q—What is contained in the "Crypt of Civilization," sealed at Oglethorpe University, Georgia?

A—Thousands of objects representing daily life in the year 1940 are sealed into it. The crypt is not to be opened until the year 8113.

◆ ◆ ◆

Q—What is the origin of the word "panic"?

A—It goes back to the time when the god Pan was believed to be the creator of all sudden fear. Loud noises at night were said to be caused by "Pan" or panics.

◆ ◆ ◆

Q—Are there any wild horses left on earth today?

A—The only one left of the breed is limited to the plains of the Altai Mountain region and extreme western Mongolia.

◆ ◆ ◆

Q—Which is the oldest Semitic language?

A—Akkadian, including both Assyrian and Babylonian.

◆ ◆ ◆

Q—What is the northernmost town in the United States?

A—Penasse, Minn.

National League B. B. President Gives Own Views

By WARREN GILES
National League President
Written for the United Press

CINCINNATI (UP). — There is very little I can say on the eve of the 1957 National League season that hasn't already been said. It appears to be a foregone conclusion that we are in for another hard-fought pennant race.

I don't think there ever has been so much interest in an upcoming baseball season as has been evidenced this year. It is, of course, an outgrowth of last year's tremendous National League race which saw three clubs fight it out right down to the last weekend of the season.

That excitement carried right through the winter months and into the spring training season and will, I'm certain, carry right through the winter training season and will, I'm certain, carry right through the championship season.

◆ ◆ ◆

Overall Strength Greater.

Judging from what I saw in Florida last month, the overall league strength could be even greater than it was last year. Even in the Grapefruit League standings about six national League clubs were, as we says, "bunched." Certainly, the three 1956 contenders have not been weakened. Brooklyn, Milwaukee and Cincinnati are rated a standoff by all observers to whom I talked during spring training. So much has been said and written about these three clubs there is no need for me to elaborate here.

In addition the Cardinals, Pirates and Phillies might well be stronger than they were last year.

I didn't see the Giants and Cubs this spring but read carefully all the reports from Arizona. The Giants have had what in baseball vernacular is called tough breaks, through illness, injuries and players entering military service. Looking on the brighter side of that, it will offer opportunity for some of their good young layers and this usually makes for a very interesting team.

◆ ◆ ◆

Rebuilding Process.

The Cubs have a new general manager, a new field manager and several new faces on their team. Both clubs are in the process of rebuilding and are enthusiastic about a number of their young players. Both should field improved teams in 1957 to further balance a league which, right now, is about the strongest and best balanced league I've seen during all my years in the N. L.

It is possible that the three established contenders face a greater challenge than they anticipate. The Cardinals, billed last year as a "dark-horse," are in a good position to be just that in 1957. The St. Louis pitching looks greatly improved and Stan Musial has enjoyed one of his finest springs in many years. The presence of Del Ennis in the lineup will give the club a clean-up "sock" it has been missing in recent years.

The combined compressor facilities of Lone Star Gas Company amount to 34 compressor stations totaling 54,810 gas compressor horsepower.

Summary Of Sports In County To Date

The East Zone boys' basketball team for 1957 dominated by the champion Wylie High School Pirates who placed four men on the mythical quintet. Princeton had the other member of the first team. Community had three on the second team and Blue Ridge and Anna took the other two places.

The teams were selected by coaches in the district on ballots provided by Radio Station KMAE. All boys named will receive certificates of their achievement.

There were no unanimous selections for the first team, however, David McEuen of Wylie was named on ballots of all six coaches. The other four members of the team were named on five of the six ballots.

The first team lists McEuen of Wylie (5-1), Carol Loke of Princeton (4-1), Gene Lamb, Wylie (4-1), Jerry Cooper, Wylie, (4-1), and John Hickman, Wylie, (2-3).

The second team: Bobby Abbott, Community; David Dodson, Community; Kenneth Strickland, Community; James White, Blue Ridge, and C. D. Cave, Anna.

Honorable mention: Scribner, Anna; J. W. Wester, Wylie; David Kissinger Anna; C. Morrow, Princeton; Larry Smith, Princeton; John York, Princeton; Don Self, Wylie; J. Hood, Westminster; Kenneth Chambers, Princeton; McGee, Princeton, and Todd, Blue Ridge.

Switching to baseball, a more seasonal sport just now, the Prosper High Eagles are unbeaten in five conference games and have won the championship the first half of the season in District 29-B. Prosper wrapped the first round flag last week with a 1-0 win over Celina in which Pitcher Jerry Edwards let the Bobcats down with just one hit and struck out 12. Ray Pinion was the losing pitcher.

The second half of the schedule opened Friday with Prosper at Alla, Frisco at Celina and Westminster at Anna.

A play-off between the first and second round winners will determine the district champion at the close of the schedule.

Rain and bad weather have interferred with play in Dist. 35-B with only one conference game reported. Blue Ridge beat Community 6-0 Friday behind the one-hit hurling of James White.

Friday's schedule in 35-B was Allen at Community and Blue Ridge at Princeton. Wylie Drew a bye this week.

OIL NEWS

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE

WASHINGTON (UP). — The government fell heir to potential oil millions this week when the supreme court ruled its own the mineral rights in all government-grant railroad land.

The decision was against the Union Pacific which wanted to drill for oil on its 400 foot wide government-granted right of way in Wyoming. But it applies to all railroads whose rights of way are land grants under a lew enacted in 1862. This means thousands of acres.

Department of Interior lawyers, told the United Press the Bureau of Land Management is free to lease the lands for mineral exploration but before any attempted leasing they will draft ground rules for Secretary Fred A. Seaton.

◆ ◆ ◆

Slant Drill.

They said the decision poses many problems. High on the list is the act that the railroad retain surface rights which they can use to deny access to their alnds even though the government leases the mineral rights.

But this does not preclude the government from leasing public lands adjoining the right of way and authorizing the lesses to "slant drill" into the right of way for oil natural gas or other minerals. Offset drilling also is now legal.

On the same premises a private land-owner could lease his land for slant or off-set drilling if the driller also held the government's mineral rights. And carrying it further, the railroads themselves could drill if they acquired the mineral rights or they could lease their lands for that purpose.

◆ ◆ ◆

Mutual Benefit.

"We will study the full significance of the decision before making any recommendations," one of the interior lawyers said. "One thing is certain, however. We now have full authority to lease the mineral rights in any government-grant right of way."

Best guess is that the lawyers will recommend a policy under which the railroads and the government might cooperate for their mutual profit.

BIG LEAGUE . . .

● BASEBALL

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

The New York Ginats read the newspapers, too, and they're working up a pretty good lather over all those experts who picked them seventh and eighth.

The Giants certainly didn't look like tail-enders Friday as they licked the Indians, 8-1, at Jacksonville, Fla. Right-hander Ruben Gomez shut out Cleveland after yielding a first inning homer to Bobby Avila and wound up with a trim five-hitter.

Even some of the Indians have the feeling the Giants are being underestimated in most quarters.

"I don't know too much about the National League," says Cleveland outfielder Gene Woodling "but from what we've seen of the Giants this spring we think everyone is picking them too low."

◆ ◆ ◆

Senators Same Way.

Washington is more or less in the same boat in the American League. Few observers see the Senators finishing any higher then Seventh or eighth. Yet they rose up to defeat the world champion Yankees 11-10, at Griffith Stadium Friday.

The Senators got to Don Larsen for seventh runs in the fifth inning and then went on to register the victory at the expense of southpaw Tommy Byrne when rookie Lyle Luttrell singled home Roy Sievers from second base in the ninth.

Hank Bauer, Elston Howard, Bill Skowron and Woody Held all homored for the Yanks while Sievers and Luttrell did likewise for Washington.

Rookie outfielder Carl Powis singled home the winning run in the eighth as the Orioles scored a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati at Baltimore. Al Pilarcik homered for Baltimore while Billy Loes and George Zuverink split the pitching chores for the winners.

◆ ◆ ◆

Meyer Goes to Bosox.

Before the game, Cincinnati sold pitcher Russ Meyer to the Boston Red Sox and bought the contract of pitcher Raul Sanchez from Havana of the International League. Meyer, with the Cubs most of last season, had a 1-6 record while Sanchez won 10 games and lost six for the Cuban club last year.

Frank Lary and Paul Foytack combined to pitch the Detroit Tigers to a 9-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates at Charlotte, N. C. Ron Samford homered for Detroit while Harvey Kuenn helped himself to three of the Tigers' 16 hits.

The Red Sox jumped on Granny Hamner for three runs in the eighth to trip the Phillies, 5-2, at Richmond, Va., Robin Roberts pitched two-hit ball for the first seven innings but the Red Sox got two runs in the fourth on Frank Malzone's double and Dick Gernert's homer. Rookie Ed Bouchee homered for the Phils.

The Navy is credited with saving more than 200 lives by means of helicopter rescue during Northern California's flood disaster, while Naval Reservists contributed their part by keeping communications open around the clock.

SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP). — Where would they be today if it wasn't for sports?

You get a lot of surprising answers when you ask that question of the guys who are household and headline names. They're all glad, too, that the breaks came the way they did.

The possibilities range all the way from plumber to president. "I," says Chuck Dressen, manager of the Washington Senators, "might have been yardmaster by now in the freight yards at Decatur, Ill. I started as a switchman and was a foreman when I started playing ball."

◆ ◆ ◆

Once A Crooner.

Move over, Sinatra and Como. Because Claude Harmon, the former Masters champion of golf, had his eye set on being a crooner. Claude actually toured with a band as a singer in his late teens and "had a hard time making up my mind whether to be a pro golfer."

Ray Robinson, the former middleweight champion who tries to regain the title from Gene Fullmer next month, knows without doubt that he would have been a dancer — which he was just before making his current comeback.

Jimmy Thomson, once famed as the longest hitter in golf, allows that he would have been a professional soccer player in Scotland if it hadn't been that his father led him into the fairway sport.

Tris Speaker, the Hall of Fame outfielder, figures he's "probably be climbing telephone poles in Hillsboro, Tex. — which is what I did as a kid."

◆ ◆ ◆

Brothers Make Cigars

"My two brothers graduated from high school and went to work in a cigar factory in Tamp," says Al Lopez, manager of the Chicago White Sox. "Maybe that's what I'd have done."

Tony Cuccinello, the White Sox coach, started out as a plumber's helper on Longer Island.

Billy Jurges, the former big league shortstop, would have filled the "president" category, he's certain.

"The fellow I worked with is president of that bank now," he grins.

But none of them would do it any differently now. On that you can lay odds.

Editor's Note: Doc Quigg is on a swing through Europe, over which some 700,000 American tourists are expected to amble this summer. His tour of places some off-beat, some on-beat, takes him on short stops through Portugal, Spain, the French Riveria, Rome, Paris and England.

LISBON (UP). — The greenery in this fair land of Portugal is enough to make a Kelly blush for shame. The grasslands and shrubbery have a glow that seems almost dye-injected, and in all the land there is scarcely a sign of a TV aerial twigged on a rooftop.

Blessed are they that live in Portugal. The radio burdens the airwaves, but it has very few singing commercials.

Urged to delve into memory about any singing commercial at all, one local citizen deposed as follows:

◆ ◆ ◆

Texas Laundry.

"There is one that I recall, but it is not singing. It is a record, advertising the 'Texas Laundry shop.' They start in out bang, bang . . . cowboy' with hippee yells, and then they say: 'Texas is not only this — Texas is a new laundry shop.'"

Lisbon is a lovely city of one million inhabitants, of red-orange roofs, white and pink buildings, and snuggled against the sea's long rolling white breakers. The streets are so clean they have a scrubbed look.

You can take a bus out to the seaside resort of Monte Estoril, which I did, but be forewarned that a charactered tourist bus is likely to have radio music coming at you out of the ceiling in a sudden burst when the driver turns it on.

Also beware of the hotel room numbers. Some hotels number like those in America. Some, like mine don't. My room number is 23. Instead of being on the second floor, it is on the fourth, along with all the numbers in the 20. You have to go to the top floor — in this case its the fifth floor — to get to room No. 1. Then you work down, getting to the 50s on the first floor.

◆ ◆ ◆

Line Up Cabs.

Taxi drivers line up their cabs single file in front of the Estoril railroad station, and when they need to move forward to fill up a gap in the line, they get out and push on the open driver-side door and steering wheel, rolling their power. If you ask someone how cabs forward by sheer manpower. If you ask someone how come this means of locomotion you are told: "To save themselves the trouble of starting the engine."

Portugal has many breath-taking aspects, but here's one for the books. You have to have a license to use a cigaret lighter if you live here. A man showed me his at lunch today: "No 3773, annual license for use of cigarette lighters." The cost is equivalent to about $1 in American money.

What's the idea? Protects the match industry.

Old-Timer Solons Show Tax Caution

★ ★ ★

Editor's Note — In Lyle C. Wilson's absence, substitutes for his analytical dispatches are being written by other members of the UP Washington staff. Today's is by Raymond Lahr, political writer and chief of the Senate staff.

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UP). — Some old-timers in Congress are cautioning against a stampede toward tax reduction on the basis of "paper cuts" in the budget. These warnings are coming from men like Sen. Harry F. Byrd D-Va., and Styles Bridges D- N. H., and Rep. Daniel A. Reed R- N. Y. all charter members of the economic bloc.

They are not talking against tax reduction. They are first being more cautious than the House Democratic leadership, which sees a good chance for passage of a tax reduction bill effective next Jan. 1 if two conditions are met. The conditions are that there must be no sign of a downturn in federal revenue, and that Congress must take a substantial slice off President Eisenhower's 72 billion dollars budget.

And different on how to approach tax reduction is largely a difference in degree. But there is a fear on the part of the more cautious members of Congress than a politically-attractive tax cut may be based on cuts in appropriations bills that will not stand up.

Thus Reed House GOP spokesman on tax legislation, said it was premature to talk about tax cuts on the basis of "paper cut" in appropriations which may be offset later by supplemental appropriations.

Byrd and Bridges said Congress must know how cuts in appropriations will affect federal spending in the coming fiscal year, starting July 1, before acting on tax reduction. In the maze of government bookkeeping. Congress is never sure when a cut in an appropriation will show up as a cut in spending.

But Bridges thinks Congress can take action this year to trim $2,500,000,000 from the 72 billion dollar spending total for fiscal 1958, the government year that starts July 1. Then he said, some of the saving could be applied to the federal debit and some of tax relief.

Moslem's Call Is New Tourists Attraction

★ ★ ★

By LOUIS CASSELLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP). — The wailing sounds of a Muzzin's voice calling Washington Moslems to prayer is the newest tourist attraction in this city of famous sights.

The sing-song sound over a loudspeaker in the minaret of a mosque is issued five times a day. It goes like this: "La ilah illa allah, muhammed rasulu allah". There is no God but Allah, and Mohammed is his prophet.

The prayer calls were heard for the first time this month, at the start of the Moselem holy season of Ramadan. They will continue year-round in the future, as a regular part of worship at the Islamic center now nearing completion on fashionable Massachusetts Avenue.

◆ ◆ ◆

Emphasizes Fact.

Construction of this beautiful white mosque in the heart of the U. S. capital has brought home to American Christians a fact which their missionaries in Asia have been reporting, with mounting concern, for the past several years.

The major Asian religions, after centuries of decline and decadence, are showing vigorous signs of life.

The strong spirit of nationalistic pride sweeping Asia has sparked a resurgence of loyalty to "native" faiths, such as Mohammedinism, Buddhism and Hinduism. And it has raised formidable new barriers to the further spread of Christianity, which many Asians associated with "western colonialism."

◆ ◆ ◆

Asian Missionaries.

Dr. Tracey K. Jones Jr., executive secretary of the Methodist Board of Missionis, told a recent conference of Christian leaders that the Asian religions have now begun to "look upon the United States itself as a fertile ground for their missionary efforts."

"They are gaining converts and building temples in this country," he said.

A United Press survey, prompted by Dr. Jones' remarks, indicates that this "reverse missionary" effort is still on an extremely limited scale in America.

◆ ◆ ◆

100,000 Moslems in U. S.

A spokesman for the Islamic center said there are about 100,000 Moslems in the United States, of whom the vast majority are immigrants from Arab countries or the children of immigranets. The biggest Moselem comunities are in New York, Detroit and Toledo, Ohio. The Washington mosque serves about 500 local Moslems, nearly all of whom are assigned to embassies of Arab nations here.

"We have gained some converts among native - born Americans, especially those of the colored races," said the Moslem spokesman. "We have no precise figures on these, but the total probably don't exceed 3,000. Most of them are in Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Chicago."

The attraction of the Moslem faith to some American Negroes may be due in part to its emphasis on elimination of any distinctions of race or color within the "brotherhood of Islam."

Directors Call for Bids On Boys B B Equipment

The Board of Directors of the McKinney Boys Baseball Leagues will accept bids from dealers who would like to furnish equipment for the three leagues this summer.

Bids will be accepted on regulation Little League and Youth League baseballs, bats, catchers equipment (including masks, body protectors and leg guards), batting helmets, baseball caps and "T" shirts (printed with name on front and numeral on back).

All bids should be made in writing and delivered or mailed to H. D. Mouzon, league president, Radio Station KMAE, McKinney, not later than Monday, April 22.

BACKSTAIRS AT THE . . .

WHITE HOUSE

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP). — Backstairs at the White House:

In recent days, President Eisenhower has looked like Rudroph, the red-nosed reindeer.

The end of the presidential nose has been most brilliant, looking for all the world like he had been tweaked recently.

Finally, a caller, a distinguished mayor of an American city, built up nerve enough to ask the President why the end of his nose was so red.

"I stayed under the sun lamp too long," was Eisenhower's answer.

Virtually every day the President spends some 15 or 30 minutes under a quartz sun lamp and apparently, there are times when he stays a bit longer than cosmetically advisable.

He showed up at a recent press conference looking positively cherubic as a result of his sunlamp exposure. Each high cheekbone had a brilliant red spot on it.

The president has his private gymnasium in the White House, complete with swimming pool, sun lamp, bar bells electric horse and a punching bag that sounds like a set of bongo drums when properly punched.

Eisenhower swims fairly often in his tepid White House pool 80 plus degrees and then drops into the gym for a rub-oown and a sun-lamp treatment.

Manny Ress, the New York funster who makes celluloid buttons for a rather substantial living, produced a number of the buttons for the last Republican convention. He has now come up with a new one which he is mailing in limited numbers to his friends attached to the White House. This button, a large orange and black number, says, "Try vodka and carrot juice — it won't keep you sober . . . but you'll see better."

The mail on Eisenhower's auto trips to Gettysburg is starting to change. When the President was first disclosed to have been speeding to Gettysburg at far above normal speed limits, the mail response to the White House was uniformly critical.

In recent days, however, the mail has begun to take the President's side; in fact, reporters are getting letters taking them to task for intrduing on Eisenhower's privacy.

Sanity Test Is Held For 'Mad Bomber Manhattan'

NEW YORK (UP) — A judge held a sanity hearing today at the hospital bedside of white-masked George Metesky, the "mad bomber of Manhattan" who was reported to be dying slowly of tuberculosis.

Judge Samuel S. Liebowitz of Brooklyn deferred until Monday any decision on whether Metesky should be sent to Mattewan State Hospital for the criminally insane or should stand trial for planting bombs during a 16-year career of retribution against Consolidated Edison Co.

Metesky, a 54-year-old machinist from Waterbury, Conn., who has admitted planting 50 bombs throughout New York, was strapped to a rolling stretcher and was masked to prevent the spread of tuberculosis germs at the hearing in a recreation room of Kings County Hospital.

The Judge, two assistant district attorneys, defense counsel and six reporters who attended the hearing all were offered masks and white gowns but refused them.

If Liebowitz should rule Metesky insane, the action may touch off a legal hassle with Manhattan general sessions Judge John A. Mullen, who has ruled the "bomber" capable of standing trial. Metesky is charged with planting bombs in both Manhattan and Brooklyn.

Mullen, who based his decision on the same psychiatric report given today to Liebowitz, said Metesky would be tried in Manhattan "no matter what the Kings county Brooklyn court does."

Dr. Albert A. La Verne, one of five Bellevue hospital psyhiatrists who examined Metesky, said, "his head is just an empty shell." He said harmless looking Metesky was obsessed with wild emotions and believed he had a mission in life.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON OF THE WEEK

RESULTS OF EASTER

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR APRIL 21

By ROY L. SMITH

The theological implications of Easter are of the utmost importance, and many of them will be given extended treatment at the hands of scholarly and devout men on Easter Sunday. But perhaps we will not be charged with lack of reverence if we take time to look at some of the by-products of Easter.

The Sabbath

Jesus of Nazareth was crucified on the day preceding the Jewish sabbath. His friends buried him hurriedly and then hastened away to their homes to avoid desecrating the sabbath.

Throughout that Sabbath day he lay in his tomb, and the temple services went on as usual. Meanwhile, the temple authorities One more disturber was safetly out of the way.

But on the morning of the first day of the week he was seen alive, and held converse with some of his old-time friends. And from that time on the world has never been the same.

The first Christians were Jews, and as such they continued to observe the Jewish sabbath. But on the first day of the week they gathered to celebrate the rescurrection of Jesus. When the Christian faith spread out into the Gentile world and non-Jews became Christians, they ignored the Jewish sabbath and observed the Christian memorial on the first day of the week. This, in time, became the sabbath for the Christians everywhere.

Sabbath and Pagans

It is a rather remarkable fact that the influence of the Christian sabbath has spread throughout the pagan world. This does not mean that the non-Christian nations observe the day as a sacred or a holy occasion. But there is no other day in all the world's calendar which is so universally recognized.

On every continent, and among all peoples, Sunday ist a day when stores are apt to be closed, when business takes a respite, when parliaments are dismissed and when the people are given an opportunity to rest.

Not only so, but the week for every nation on earth begins with Sunday, all historical documents are dated with reference to Sunday, and at least some deferences is paid to the claims of the spiritual over the secular.

None of this would have been the case if it had not been fo the Christian celebration of Easter.

Easter and The Church

There may be wide differences of opinion among the theologians and the Church historians concerning many matters, but there is no difference concerning one thing. Except that there had been an Easter there would never have been a Christian Church. It grew up, as an institution, as a direct result of the fact that those early Christians believed that Jesus had been seen alive.

Every church spire, every Christian house of worship, every little gold cross suspended about the throat of a lovely woman, every hospital, college, or social agency operating in the name of the Church is a silent witness to the fact that the first century Christians were absolutely positive that they had seen Jesus alive on the first day of week.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for April 21: "JESUS' VICTORY and COMMISSION," Matthew 27:55—28: 20.

There are those enemies of the Church, of course, who look upon it as though it were something evil. And it is true that it has made many mistakes down through the ages, and that it is failing even today to do its full duty as the representative of God among men. But whatever our opinion of the Church, it continues to be a fact that without the resurrection it would never have come into existence.

The beginning of the Church was at the opened door of Jesus' tomb on Easter morning.

THE CUPS

"Saying, Father if thou be willing, remove this cup from me; nevertheless not my will, but done." (Luke 22:42)

Consider the implication of the "cup." it will no doubt suggest different things to different people. The cup that Jesus spoke of here has every implication of some particular cup in your life. This cup is representative of some distinctive sorrow, some disappointment, some heartache, something that is altogether that which you wished that it were not. Jesus tried to portray in this statement all the disastrous things that He was involved in and His life was contaminated with. Of course we would assume that He was speaking about the suffering of the cross. I don't believe Jesus ever withdrew Himself from the sense of duty that He knew lay before him. But He did have sorrows, that tremendous hour that He was going through at this time. The sorrow of a heavy heart, an aching heart, a heart that is a result of one having suffered pain, torment, misery and disappointment. He came to His own and His own received Him not, but to as many as received him, to them gave He power to become sons of God, even to them that believed on His name. He sat on the Mount of Olives overlooking the City of Jerusalem before His triumphant entry into that city, He looked with a great heart of agony, He looked upo the city that represented pure religion because it was the center, the Capitol of the religion that represented God, and yet they were so far, so terribly far from everything that God wanted them to be. His was an aching heart of disappointment, sad and forlorn. But thank God it was not hopeless, Jesus said "Gather if thou be willing remove this cup from me, nevertheless not my will, but thine be done." He was now in a position like a brave soldier who would volunteer for a serive that was beyond the manner of duty and call, one that involved danger and possibly death. He steps out in that noble gesture and says "Father, if thou be willing, if the time is at hand, if it is now your opportune hour, Lord remove me from every bit of this contaminating influence of sorrow, heartache, and despair I am ready Lord, not my will but thine be done. Your will is greater than mine and I am ready Lord."

Men of the USS Fulton have accepted the new Fulton Blue Jacket enthusiastically as a regular part of their uniform. Much less cumbersome than the foul weather jackets, they are neat, comfortable and present a sharp appearance. They also save wear and tear on the peacoats which sailors like to save for wear on liberty.

Christian Science Text For Sunday Sermon Psalms 103

How sickness as well as sin can be overcome through spiritual understanding of God, divine Principle, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the Golden Text from Pselms (103 2-4): "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits; who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healteth all thy diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction."

In addition to passages from the King James Version of the Bible, selections will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (406: 1-6): "The Bible contains the recipe for all healing. 'The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.' Sin and sickness are both healed by the same principle. The tree is typical of man's divine principle, which is equal to every emergency, offering full salvation from sin, sickness, and death."

TO BE ORDAINED HERE

DON BUCK.

WILLIAM BUCK.

William M. and Don C. Buck attend the same classes in TCU's Brite College of the Bible, live only a few blocks apart, and each weekend head out the same highway for their Sunday church work.

But their lives haven't always been so closely parallel. So Sunday, May 12, marks quite an occasion for the Buck family.

On that day the two brothers will be ordained into the ministry in the First Christian Church of McKinney, with their father, a minister and retired chaplain, presiding at the ordination.

The two candidates for Bachelor of Divinity degrees are sons of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles M. Buck. Their father at present is interim minister of the Christian Church at Elgin.

Born in Paris City, Ia., Bill, 27, and Don, 24, have lived in many places since their father entered the armed forces as a chaplain back in 1942.

Bill was graduated from high school in Austin in 1948 and soon after that the Bucks all went back to Japan to live.

After about a year, Bill came back to the U. S. to enroll in college, so he missed Don's high school graduation — from the Tokyo American School of Narimasu. While in the American school in Japan, Don met Aliene Zoe Hollon of San Antonio, daughter of an Army officer, who later, while a TCU student herself, became Mrs. Don Buck.

Bill's wife, also a TCU exstudent, is the former Elsie May Smith of Austin. They have a son two years old.

While studying for his divinity degree, Bill has served as pastor of the First Christian Church at Melissa, some four miles from McKiney.

Brother Don, for the past year and a half has been youth directr at the church in McKinney, where the ordination service will take place.

Also expected to be on hand for the double ordination the their two sisters, Mrs. Clarence E. Dodgen Jr. of Arlington, and Miss Laurel Irene Buck, a sophomore at TCU.

First Baptist Youth Will Have Charge Of Sunday Services

Concluding Youth Week observance at the First Baptist Church, the young people will be in charge of Sunday's services. Sunday morning the young people will take over the duties of departmental superintendents, officers and teachers, from the Junior through the Adult departments.

Dr. Charles Myers, the pastor, will preach at the 11 o'clock hour but Sunday night speakers are Bill Mitchell and William Ballou.

Monte Landers will lead the singing with Miss Sonja Pickett as organist.

Other speakers this past week have been Bill Goforth, who led the mid-week prayer service Wednesday and Carey Cox and Bob Byrd who brought the messages last Sunday night.

Butler Brothers Annual Meeting Held At Town House

Butler Brothers held their annual district meeting in McKinney at the Town House Wednesday night for the Ben Franklin store owners of this district.

An interesting film "Togetherness" was shown and a round table discussion followed. Representing Butler Bros. was Ben Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Armstrong, divisional supervisor and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gray, district superintendent.

Ben Franklin store owners in this district are:

Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson.

Rockwall, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cair.

McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Riddles.

Carrolton, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Richard.

Van Alstyne, Mr. and Mrs. Veasey.

Plano, Mrs. Moore.

South Side Church Youth Day To Be Observed Sunday

Sunday annual National Christ Ambassador Day will be observed at the South Side Assembly of God Church as Youth Day with special services morning and evening. Local ministers who will speak are Rev. Thelbert Thompson at the morning worship and Rev. Roy H. Carpenter at the evening hour.

Instrumental music will feature each service the choir will be composed of the youth of the church. Mrs. Carpenter will preside at the organ, with Mrs. Velma Ring at the piano.

The pastor, Rev. R. B. Ring, has been in Plano the past week holding a revival. He reports a most successful meeting which closes tonight when he brings an illustrated message on "After the Rapture, What Then?"

All Day Services At Weston Methodist Church Sunday

All day services and conference will be held at the Weston Methodist Church Palm Sunday, April 14. Rev. Robert Langley, the pastor, will preach at the 11 o'clock hour followed by basket dinner at the noon hour.

Mrs. Marita Malone and Judy Carol Miller of McKinney will sing a duet at the morning service, accompanied at the piano by their voice teacher, Miss Vivian Bell. Mrs. Malone has been guest soloist on several occasions and Miss Miller has appeared as vocalist on programs over WFAA-TV, Channel 8, Dallas.

A large crowd is expected at the day's service.

Bible Baptists Vote To Change Name Of Their Church

The Evangelistic meeting at the Bible Baptist Church, First and Bradley Streets, will continue through the Sunday evening service, April 14. The evangelist, Roy A. Health, will speak tonight at 7:30 o'clock on "What Happens to People Who Stay Out After Midnight." One of his subjects will be "When God Broke the Law."

The Bible Baptist Church has voted to change its name to the Bradley Street Baptist Church, effective as soon as signs can be changed. The church will continue to be fundamental in its faith, independent in its actions, while cooperative in its endeavors with other churches of like faith, pre-millennial in its viewpoint of Christ's second coming, and missionary in its spirit, now contributing ten percent of its income to home and foreign missions. This announcement was made by the pastor, Rev. R. B. Reed.

The public is cordially invited to any and all services of the church.

New Beauty Shop Opens For Business On South Expressway

Mesdames Oneida Rominger and Kathryn Spencer have opened a modern new beauty shop in the old Saber Jet drive-in building on the South Expressway. The building has been completely remodeled, redecorated and modern beauty parlor equipment installed.

The stop will be operated daily by Mesdames Eva Brooks and Kathryn Weaver, while Mrs. Rominger and Mrs. Spencer will be in shop from 5 to 10 p.m. for the benefit of women who work.

All of the operators have several years experience in all types of beauty work. The new shop affords plenty of parking space for the customers.

An advertisement in the Daily Courier-Gazette announces the opening of the new shop. Phone LI 2-2248 for appointments.

Man Spends 34 Years In State Hospital--Not Mad

PITTSBURGH (UP).—Thirty-four years ago Charles Fink, then a youth of 19, was arrested for carrying a revolver. Today he gained his freedom.

Fink, now 53, was never sentenced for carrying the gun, a charge punishable by a one-year jail term. Instead he was pronounced insane in 1923 and sent to Fairview state hospital for the criminally insane.

Fink said during the 34 years he never was outside hospital grounds and received only two sanity examinations.

"After a few years I began to think that maybe I couldn't get out and I decided to make the best of my life up there," he said while waiting for Judge William F. Cercone to decide his fate.

Fink was pronounced sane last month and was returned to Allegheny Cunty jail to face the gun charge. The judge who sent him to Fairview, the district attorney, and arresting officers are now dead.

Judge Cercone studied Fink's record and ordered him freed.

Fink left the courtroom with a single remark: "I am not angry with anyone."

Local Auxiliary Members Attend Dallas Luncheon

Mrs. Glenn Mitchell and Mrs. Marshall M. Searcy of the Collin County Medical Auxiliary were honor guests at a luncheon at the Brooks Hollow Golf Club given by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Dallas County Medical Society in a fortieth year anniversary celebration. They also attended an earlier meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the North Texas Medical Society comprising all of the presidents of the county auxiliaries of Noxth Texas with Mrs. T. V. Patterson, president of the association and Councilwoman of District 14, presiding.

Mrs. Oscar Marchman Jr., president of the Dallas auxiliary, conducted the meeting, and a program admittedly "stolen" from Ralph Edwards "This Is Your Life" was given depicting the founding and progress made through the years by the Dallas organization.

Mrs. Milford O. Rouse, president of the Texas Medical Association, praised the auxiliaries for their work in promoting health and safety and supporting their doctor husbands in their important work. Dr. Glenn D. Carlson, president of the Dallas County Medical Society welcomed the guests and thanked the Dallas auxiliary in behalf of the 1100 doctors representing Dallas County. Mrs. Richard Bellamy, state president of the Woman's Medical Auxiliary spoke briefly Congratulating the auxiliary on their 40 years of progress. In a ceremony following the program, the 40 candles on the yellow and white birthday cake were lit, and each guest was served cake with a small candle burning in the center.

Happy Blue Birds Visit Local Florists

Mrs. Keister Snodgrass and Mrs. G. M. Britton, leaders of the Happy Blue Birds took their group through the Hedgcoxe and Coffman Nurseries on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lee Lee Hedgcoxe accompanied the girls through her shop where they were shown a variety of cut flowers.

Mrs. W. H. Coffman led the girls through Coffman's Florist, where they viewed the vast array of blooming plants, explaining briefly the names and nature of the plants. Each girl was given a blossom as a favor from Mrs. Coffman, and they were also given potted plants by their leaders, to care for.

Prior to the visit to the nurseries the girls met at the First Baptist Church where Katie Winniford called the meeting to order. Mary Kathryn Stogdill read the roll. Refreshments of cold drinks and salted nuts were served by Patricia Fogarty and her mother, Mrs. Cliff Fogarty.

Local Clubs To Honor Noted Japanese Family

The Willa Largent Garden Club, the McKinney Garden Club and the Art jointly are bringing to McKinney three members of the artistic Japanese family, the Yoshidas. In the room court, the prize went to Mrs. Harlow's room.

Art Club Meets With Mrs. Truett

Mrs. Luther Truett received the Art Club Thursday afternoon in her lovely new home on Finch Street. Arriving guests enjoyed touring the home and then a social hour before the formal meeting began. Dainty refreshments were served from a table centered with a beautiful, large arrangement of white tulips. Mrs. H. A. Finch poured and Mrs. Victor Threlkeld assisted the hostess in serving.

Mrs. Seymour Gostin was the speaker for the day on "Contemporary Flower Arrangments," a subject on which she is well qualified to speak as she has taken the fine Flowers Show Schools required before one may qualify as a national flower show judge. The members were delighted with the many varied and interesting arrangements placed at vantage points in the room. They spoke of many hours of preparations. Mrs. Gostin first briefly sketched the history of flower arranging. Then she pointed out the similarities of design fundamentals in flower arranging and in art. In her vivacious manner she pleased the group as she illustrated may types of designs for modern flower arranging. Thoroughly enjoying every moment were thirteen members and the guests: Mrs. R. A. Finch, Mrs. Charles Myers, Mrs. Sterling Bailey Mrs. Stanley Dennis, Mrs. Graves Burton and little Misses Nancy and Katie Truett. Nancy further entertained the guests with an amusing recitation.

In the business meeting which closed the afternoon, Mrs. A. M. Wolford, president of the club presided. Final plans were made for the keenly anticipated visit of the Japanese Yoshida family on April 30 and May 1.

Birthday Of Mrs. Smith Is Celebrated

The Tuesday Night Bridge Club meeting has been postponed from April 16 to April 23 when Mrs. Boyd Williams will be hostess. Members please take notice.

TALL LAMPS TOPS IN NEW COLLECTIONS

NEW YORK (UP).—A race of "giants" has taken over in the lamp department.

Tall lamps are the rule, not the exception in the new collections, reported the Lamp and Shade Institute of America.

The institute said that even the Early American group — the last stronghold of the quaint little lamps—includes designs that push their way to new heights.

The 30-inch lamp, which the institute called "the giant of yesteryear," still shows in some of the collections. But those measuring 40 inches and up dominate.

Marlon Brando, Glenn Ford and the nated Japanese star, Machiko Kyo, as they appear in a scene from "The Teahouse of the August Moon," MGM filmization of the great Broadway comedy hit. The picture was filmed largely on location in Japan in CinemaScope and Metrocolor.

One of the year's most eagerly-awaited attractions, MGM's "The Teahouse of the August Moon," starring Marlon Brando, Glenn Ford and the noted Japanese actress, Machiko Kyo, opens at the Ritz Theatre this Sunday.

This is the filmization in CinemaScope and Metrocolor of the Pulitzer Prize-winning John Patrick play, which achieved overwhelming success on Broadway for three seasons in 1,027 performances, played throughout the United States via six road show companies, and continued its triumphs abroad in more than 40 countries.

To film the hilarious story of a U.S. Army Captain, who is put in charge of rehabilitating an Okinawan village and who, abetted by a funloving interpreter and an enticing geisha girl, finds himself happily going "native," MGM sent its stars and a large production unit to Japan, where a greater part of the footage was filmed against authentic and picturesque settings, with a number of Japan's prominent actors and acrtesses taking part in the picture. On completion of the location scenes, the company returned to Hollywood for interior filming.

Marlon Brando plays the role of Sakini, the happy-go-lucky Okinawan interpreter who introduces Captain Fisby to the pleasures of Oriental ways. The role called for a remarkable make-up in which the familiar Brando features undergo an amazing transformation. Two hours daily were required by the star to apply the unique make-up.

NEWS FROM HOLLYWOOD

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UP). — Marie Wilson absent from TV screens since "My Friend Irma" nosedived three years ago, is plotting a comback playing an actress who inherits a fortune.

Financially, Marie was never away.

During her hiatus the "dumb" blonde beauty collected her salary as regularly as if she were starring in a top-rated show.

"We haven't settled on the title of the new program," Marie said, perched on a couch in her pink and blue living room. "But the pilot film is in New York waiting for a sponsor and a time slot.

"It was real nice of CBS to pay me all this time, even though I haven't worked five minutes. I was willing to make any appearances they asked, but they were not interested in keeping me busy."

The buxom comedienne pulled a fast one last month when she played a dramatic bit on Ed Sullivan's show. She shudders when discussing it.

"You'd have thought I dropped a bomb or something," she piped.

"I'll never do a thing like that again. The New York cab drivers, store clerks and people on the street liked it. But the critics groaned.

"My new show will be strictly comedy," she grabbled on. "I'm supposed to be the richest girl in the world. It makes a good background for the program to go places and do things. The wardrobe is out of this world.

"Irma was a poor girl and didn't get around much," she added sadly.

"The new character will be named Marie Wilson — after me. She'll be a dumb blonde like Irma.

"Funny, I've never been offered anything except dumb blonde roles. When I was young I wanted to be a Garbo. Now I realize how much sadness there is in the world. And I'm happy to be a clown. There's too much downbeat entertainment around anyhow."

During her TV sabbatical Maire made two appearances with Ken Murray's "Blackouts" in Las Vegas. She and Murray have milked more milage from this act than any show business routine in recent history.

"We began the show in 1942, and ran for seven years at the El Capitan theater tin Hollywood. We open again in 'Vegas Wednesday at the Rivera Hotel," she said proudly.

"Some of the gags haven't changed a bit. During the act Ken asks me where I was born, and I say, 'in a grapefruit grove in Anaheim.'

"It got laughs 15 years ago and people langh just as hard today.

"I guess there'd always be room in showbusiness for dumb blondes" she concluded with a giggle, "especially if they're born in grapefruit groves."

"THE WHITE SQUAW!" Indian-hating David Brian threatens the life of May Wynn in Columbia Pictures' "The Whit Squaw," at the Ritz Theatre. They star with William Bishop in the drama.

An unusual and thrilling story of frontier heroism is reportedly told in Columbia Pictures' "The White Squaw," starring David Brian, May Wynn and William Bishop in the outdoor drama due Saturday at the Ritz Theatre. Brian is seen as a violent Indian-hating land baron; Miss Wynn plays the title role, that of a beautiful half-white Indian girl who braves the fury of both redskin and white to save the lands of her people and the life of her white sweetheart, Bishop.

As a pioneer who refuses to relinquish the land he has carved out of the wilderness Brian goes berserk when the government, claiming he holds no legal title, sets in aside as an Indian reservation. With his three sons, Brian poisons the Indians' water, stampedes a herd of cattle the Indians have purchased to assuage their hunger, and roughs up Bishop, one of the few white men sympathetic to the Indians.

Collin Council Of Presbyterian Churches To Meet

The Collin County Council of Central Presbyterian Churches will be held Tuesday, April 16 at 10:30 a.m. at the Prosper Presbyterian Church. Everyone is asked to bring a sack lunch and drinks and dessert will be furnished by the host church.

Rev. John Hill will be the speaker.

WELL, THE GROWN-UPS DON'T KNOW IT ALL

URBANA, Ill. (UP).—The literary likes and dislikes of a two or three-year-old may differ greatly from what adults thing he should like.

Large, clear and colorful pictures of something that child knows and understands rate much higher than the "cute" books that more sophisticated adult tastes sometimes dictate.

So says Quegnie Mills, University of Illinois child development and family relations specialist, who reports that the best books contain pictures of animals with an accompanying sentence or two, so the child can hear about and see the action at the same time.

Large, life-like renderings are favored over smaller and more stylist pictures. The pictures should be uncluttered so the child can understand the action easily, she said.

NO MATTER HOW YOU LOOK AT IT,

THE STORY STAYS THE SAME!

ADVERTISERS INVEST MORE MONEY IN NEWSPAPERS THAN IN MAGAZINES, RADIO, TV AND OUTDOOR COMBINED!

The figures change but not the story. Last year adverisers spent a record $3,305,000,000 in newspapers—again surpassing their combined expenditures in TV, magazines, radio and outdoor.

The figures have changed, too, in daily newspaper circulation—now up to a new high of over 57,000,000. This growth enables newspaper advertisers—national, regional and local—to penetrate anywhere in the nation.

How do advertisers rate leading media by the amount of money they spend? Here are the McCann-Erickson—Printers' Ink Preliminary Estimates of Advertising Expenditures for 1956, published on February 8, 1957:

Newspapers	$3,305,000,000
Television	1,255,000,000
Magazines	782,000,000
Radio	565,000,000
Outdoor	200,000,000

No matter how you look at it—from the vantage points of circulation, penetration or adaptability—newspapers continue to give the best buy for your money.

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

ONE FRIDAY

When we become mired in the routine of life, one day is like any other. This was just another working-day for most of the people in Jerusalem.

Three men died on Calvary Hill. One of them was the Galilean!

Business as usual in Jerusalem. Unless we understand the whole significance of what is happening we pay little attention . . .

Do you understand what happened that Friday. Do you realize WHO hung on that central Cross. Do you know WHY He died. And FOR WHOM?

There is nothing more necessary in our lives than the deep, personal knowledge of what happened that Friday . . . and the Sunday following.

Come to Church!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Man Rescued From Dallas Lake

DALLAS (UP). — A policeman and a passerby rowed 150 yards out into the choppy waters of Bachman Lake Wednesday to rescue Henry E. Taylor, Medical Arts hospital administrator, who was clinging to the side of an overturned sailboat.

Taylor said his little boat lost its rudder and as he reached for it the high wind whipped the heavy wooden boom about. It hit him on the head and knocked him stunned into the water. A moment later the boat turned over.

Mrs. Taylor and her two children ran frantically up and down the shore for 15 minutes trying to get help before they attracted the attention of Patrolman B. J. McDonald and Frank Smith, a boatman, who rescued Taylor.

Residents Are Panicked By Jet Fighter Plane

CEDAR CITY, Utah (UP). — A jet fighter plane broke the sound barrier over this Southern Utah town, panicking residents and breaking plate glass windows along 10 blocks of the main street.

Mayor Arnold Anderson immediately protested to the commander of Nellis Air Force Base near Las Vegas, Nev., and the Air Force promised a board of officers would be flown to the site immediately to investigate. Residents believed the plane to be an Air Force F-100 although positive identification was not made.

The plane streaked down the city's main street as it became supersonic. Witnesses said the boom was like a bomb blast, rocked cars on the street and caused small buildings to shudder. A preliminary count showed plate glass windows broken in at least 41 business establishments along Main Street. An elderly woman was reported to have been cut when the chandelier fell from the ceiling of her apartment.

An unidentified tourist who was entering the city from the North estimated the aircraft was not more than 200 to 300 feet from the ground.

Residents were already complaining about two jets that cracked the sound barrier near the city yesterday.

The USS Carronade is one of the Navy's new type ships which has the latest improvements in shipboard habitability. New features include, among other things, curtains around berths for privacy, fluorescent overhead lighting, and improved eating conditions.

MANHATTAN

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — This week in Manhattan:

It looks as if each nation is out to out-do the other in the World Trade Fair which opens next week in Manhattan.

This week, some of the countries participating in the first post-war World Fair in America described some of the more fabulous items chosen to represent their industries, arts and crafts.

Britain for example is sending a coat, made of vicuna cloth, lined with diadem mink and billed at $3,500 as the most expensive girl's coat ever made.

◆ ◆ ◆

Farouk's Jewels.

Egypt is retaliating with a jewelry display, a "priceless" collection which the revolutionary government confiscated from ex-King Farouk.

The collection includes a solid gold antique hand mirror encrusted with assorted diamonds, rubies and sapphires; a pair of earrings set with 145-carat emerald; a cigarette holder with a 40-carat emerald; a gold enameled antique ash try ornamented with emerald, rubies and sapphires; a ring mounted with 145-carat star ruby; and a gold dagger "as long as your forearm" inlaid with pearls, and rubbies and sapphires.

◆ ◆ ◆

Food Exhibit.

The fair will bring under one roof—at the coliseum, some 500 million dollars worth of goods from 60 cuntries. It is to include an international food exhibit, featuring everything from Danish cheese to Polish ham to Japanese grasshoppers. At least six countries will display their fashions. And most participating nations will show home furnishings and textiles.

day mail deliveries, many citizens are hoping our postal brains will resolve their fiscal difficulties entirely by going even farther.

This would be the reduction of mail deliveries to ONE day each week.

Who gets anything except bills in the mail nowadays? Bills and sales pitches calculated to make one run up more bills?

Better to get all the duns on one day and have one big cry than have the bad news spread through five or six days.

Nobody writes letters any more except to get money. People who once indulged in the frivolous pastime of writing notes to relatives or friends now are much too occupied with more serious things, such as watching quiz shows on television, digging the newspaper comics or enjoying the beauties of nature while idling along the freeways.

So hooray for the Postoffice Dept. The elimination of Saturday mail delivery is certain to be received with such rejoicing that the gentlemen in charge surely will see the light—

No more duns except one day a week. And no deliveries whatsoever for two weeks after Christmas.—Jack Gordon In Fort Worth Press.

First Motion Pictures Bank Robbery Studied

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP). — Police are studying what they believe to be the first motion pictures ever taken during a bank robbery.

A hidden movie camera—installed only a few hours before—silently photographed a $4,000 robbery of the St. Clair Savings and Loan Co.

While a balding gunman and his auburn-haired woman accomplice emptied a cash drawer at the often-robbed firm, manager Stanley P. Zupan tripped the lever that started the camera and alerted police.

However before police arrived, the pair had obtained the money and fled. Witnesses said they made their getaway in a car driven by a second man.

The pictures were quickly developed, and according to police, produced identifiable pictures of the gunman and his woman partner. However they have not been apprehended yet. Police said the movie runs about two minutes.

Many Salvation Army officers are trained in the rhabilitation of alcoholics.

Chairman Adds New Mystery To Norman Suicide

WASHINGTON (UP).—Chairman James O. Eastland D-Miss. of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee added new mystery, unresolved Saturday, to the congressional and diplomatic involvement in the suicide of Canadian diplomat E. Herbert Norman.

Eastland, defending his subcommittee on the Senate floor Friday, said there was a "sound reason" why information allegedly linking Norman with Communism could not be brought quietly to the attention of the Canadian government.

What was the "sound reason?"

Eastland told the Senate he would not discuss it. When reporters tried to see him later, an aide said the senator planned to say no more about it.

Eastland did tell newsmen that the subcommittee had information about Norman "going beyond his college days."

This was in response to questions about reports that Canadian External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson said in Ottawa that his government knew, when it cleared Norman of Communism charges in 1952, that he openly associated with suspected Communists in his college days at Columbia University in New York City.

Police Arrest Ship Captain After 93 Dead

TOKYO (UP). — Police arrested the captain of the cherry blossom excursion ship Kitagawa Maru Saturday for causing the death of 93 persons by turning over the steering wheel to an unlicensed 16-year-old apprentice.

The Kitagawa Maru, overloaded to three times its capacity, tipped over and sank when apprentice seaman Tsuneji Shigemori swung the ship's stern into a shoal in the Inland Sea Friday.

Police arrested Nobuya Kawagushi, 30-year-old skipper of the ferry boat, on a charge of dereliction of duty.

The questioned officials of the Geibi Shipping Company, the vessel's owners, to fix responsibility for the overloading. The ship had a capacity of 77 passengers besides its four crew members. It carried 218 passengers at the time of the disaster.

The coast guard said that of the 221 persons aboard, 129 were saved, 28 bodies were recovered and 65 missing. Most of the missing were believed to have been imprisoned below the deck when the ship sank within two minutes after hitting the reef.

The apprentice helmsman was among the missing.

Pilgrims Are In Rome For Start Of Holy Week

VATICAN CITY (UP)—Thousands of pilgrims converged on Rome Saturday for the start of Holy Week, the most solemn period of the Christian year.

Despite poor traveling weather over most of Europe at least 50,000 pilgrims from foreign countries were expected to break all attendance records at Rome churches in this second year of the revised Roman Catholic Holy Week liturgy.

Holy Week starts Palm Sunday commemorating Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem. It will be climaxed with the joyous feast of Easter when the bells of Rome and the Christian world rings out the message of Christ's resurrection.

Pope Pius XII decreed the first revision of the Holy Week schedule in November, 1955, placing new emphasis on evening services.

Further minor revisions were decreed by the Pope last Feb. 14 relaxing some of the strict conditions governing the recitation of Mass in smaller communities.

Sunday, blessed palms—or olive branches in many places in Italy — will be distributed at Masses throughout the world.

Thursday commemorates the Last Supper and establishment of the Holy Eucharist.

On Good Friday, in memory of The Crucifixion, Masses are to be celebrated as close to 3 p.m. as possible under the new rules. That is the hour when the church holds Christ died on the cross.

On Holy Saturday the solemn Lenton period is extended to midnight under the revised regulations. It used to end at noon.

At the stroke of midnight church bells will ring out, ending the 40-year period of mourning and changing the mood to one of joy at the Resurrection.

Half-Grown Jungle Cat Stalks Miami

MIAMI (UP). — A half-grown jungle cat stalked the northern outskirts of the city Saturday and its owner warned already jumpy neighbors that she's "probably very hungry by now."

Police, however, said they planned no extensive seach for Jaba, the missing one-year-old Ocelot, because the owner, 15-year-old Mrs. Stan Tindall, told them the cat is unlikely to harm either a child or a dog.

"She might put her teeth on you, but she won't sink them in unless you act afraid," Mrs. Tindall said. "She's used to being around people, and I doubt if she would hurt anyone."

But Mrs. Tindall said Jaba hasn't had a solid meal in two days that anyone knows of and she must be "very hungry."

The cat, which stands about three and a half feet tall, snapped here tethering chain on Thursday and disappeared into a wooded area. She has been seen by several persons, but no one has been able, or willing to corner her.

Emergency Feed Program In Texas Extended

WASHINGTON (UP). — The Agriculture Department today extended the emergency feed program in 119 Texas counties where the program already has been operating.

The extension was made because of heavy livestock losses caused by blizzards, the department said.

The department extended the deadline for filing applications for emergency feed grain through April 29, for a supply to carry livestock through May 15. The previous deadline for applying was April 1, for a supply to last through April 15, in 171 counties.

Under the emergency feed grain program, stockmen may obtain feed at a reduction in cost of $1.50 per hundredweight.
